Hydraulic Power Unit stolen on US 27

By DAVID RANIERI

SUN Reporter

The Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office is looking for a stolen Sloan Modular Hydraulic Power Unit Model M-2400 serial #337, which is marked in white in several different places. A "Sloan Pump Company, Inc." insignia was also on the unit.

The unit is red on a green trailer with a regular hitch and has a Perkins V-8 diesel engine. It is valued at about $16,300.

The unit was stolen between the hours of 5 p.m. on Friday, April 9 and 8 a.m. on Monday, April 12 from a location U.S. 27 south of Talismash Sugar Company.

It was being leased from Sloan Pump Company by Downs Construction Company, which is doing road construction on U.S. 27.

According to Det. Sgt. John Russ with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department, tracks were found at the scene indicating that it may have been hooked up to a truck that was backed up to it.

Also, 22-caliber casings were found, indicating that the thieves may have been target shooting at the scene.

If you have any information regarding this case please contact Detective Michael Fincannon at 996-1685.

Two suspects arrested in robbery of Belle Glade Postman

An 18-year-old man and a juvenile have been arrested and charged with the robbery of a postal employee.

The robbery happened April 15 while the employee was making a night deposit at First Union Bank on Southwest Avenue B, Belle Glade.

Police say the postal employee was robbed at gunpoint by a black male wearing a dark colored ski mask. He then fled on foot with an accomplice who had been waiting in a nearby alley. Tarik Middleton of 557 S.W. 14th Street has been charged with armed robbery, grand theft, aggravated assault and using a weapon during the commission of a crime, said Det. Sgt. J.R. Eberle with the Belle Glade Police Department.

Middleton is being held on $10,000 bail at the county jail in Belle Glade.

The 16-year-old juvenile was taken to the juvenile detention center in West Palm Beach. Det. Sgt. Eberle said the weapon thought to have been used in the robbery was recovered as well as an undetermined amount of U.S. currency. Police also confiscated several items of jewelry they believe may have been purchased with the stolen money.

Members of the U.S. Postal Inspectors Office and the Belle Glade Police Department worked together on this case.

Suspect in local robbery arrested in West Palm for attempted 1st degree murder

A 23-year-old Belle Glade man, wanted as a suspect in the robbery of a local bar last Saturday night, was arrested in West Palm Beach Monday in an unrelated crime.

According to Det. Bill Fraser with the City of West Palm Beach Police Department, Melvin Grace of 1240 N.W. Ave. D, Belle Glade was arrested for attempted murder in the first degree, aggravated battery, and two counts of attempted armed robbery.

Det. Fraser said Grace is accused of shooting Steven Howard of Riviera Beach.

Grace was wanted for questioning in the April 17 robbery of Zack's Lounge at 301 S.W. 5th Street, Belle Glade.

Witnesses at the bar said a man entered the bar armed with a sawed-off gun, later discovered to be a 30-30 caliber rifle.

The robber fired a shot into the ceiling and ordered everyone inside the bar to the floor, then robbed each one at gun point of their money and jewelry.

Grace is now in the county jail. He is being held without bond.

Trial began yesterday for "Brother Bill" - Pahokee minister accused of sexual activity with a child

The trial of Clarence "Bill" Williams, 70, the Pahokee man accused of having sex with minors, began Wednesday in West Palm Beach.

Williams, the minister of The Holy Way Church, was judged competent to stand trial last month after his attorney, Bert Winkler said a stroke Williams had suffered had left him unable to stand trial.

Williams pleaded guilty in April 1986 to forcing a sexual performance by a child and lewd and lascivious acts. He was placed on probation.

Now, a former underage member of the church has accused Williams of fondling and having sex with her while he was on probation. She said the violations began in 1987 when she was 14-years-old and ended in October of 1990.

Williams is charged with three counts of sexual activity with a child. If found guilty, Williams could face 15 years in

OPINION PAGE

Feel strongly about local issues?

INVITES YOU TO THE SUN SPEAK OUT!

996-6636

To voice your opinion on any subject, call Speak Out at 996-6636, 24 hours a day. Readers can use this special number to pose questions, voice complaints, express opinions or put somebody on the back. Unlike letters to the editor, Speak Out is designed for anonymous expression of opinions. We edit Speak Out calls for clarity, brevity, relevance and fairness.

Editor's note: This is addressed to the Speak Out caller who had problems with a local business and its owner. Since this business offers a service not given by others in the Glades, we felt it would be obvious which business this caller is complaining about.

Please remember, every day we vote with our wallets. If you find this business gives substandard service and the manager is rude when you call to complain, I would suggest you do not do business with this establishment. Others will do the same.

Thank you for Speaking Out.

House needs repairs

Palm Beach County Housing and Community Development does work on people's houses, but sometimes the work is not done right.

I had work done on my house and there's a piling that's not even touching the house. The house was not even leveled, they just came and put the pilings down.

The front porch is screened in with two windows and a door going out to the porch. I have to keep those closed because the way the pilings are put in, there's a difference between the porch and the house. I have newspapers folded up and put under there to keep the rats and snakes out.

The day they finished the work they beat on the pilings and got them all uneven and when I went to lock the front door it would not close. They had to put a new lock on the door.

I have tried over a year and a half to get this problem fixed. I have talked with Mr. (Edward) Lowrey. He said he would send the inspectors out. They came out and checked it and went back and that was it.

I would appreciate it very much if you would see if I can get any action on this problem. Thank you.

Editor's note: This Speak Out was edited while hopefully retaining the caller's message. We spoke with Edward Lowrey, Administrator for Housing and Community Development for the City of Belle Glade.

He said the work done on this person's house was done in 1989, before he came to work for the City.

He said the contractor used on this development is not currently licensed and he, can find no evidence that this contractor was licensed at the time this work was completed.

Inspectors were sent out to this lady's home to check out her complaint and Mr. Lowrey said she contacted the county concerning the problems. He was told that Community Development gives a one year warranty after the work is finished. When this lady first contacted his office in November of 1992, that warranty had expired. Mr. Lowrey said the county has a policy that after the work is inspected and approved, which it was, and the one year warranty expires, they will not go back and make repairs. The county is now reviewing this policy and Mr. Lowrey said he is awaiting their response. He is hoping they can go back in and make the necessary repairs to this home. He added there is one other home that also needs repairs.

Hope they catch the postal employee robber

Just a comment. I hope the black male wearing a ski mask and his accomplice have been caught by the Belle Glade Police or U.S. Postal Inspectors Service by this publication date.

If a public employee, or anyone for that matter, is robbed at gunpoint, the robber deserves public notice of being a despicable human being and should be treated as such.

The U.S. Mail and its services is sacred, along with God, who has given us directions.

I wish I could help, but I wasn't a witness. Cut off the robber's right hand. I'm tired of outlaws who reject civilization for barbarianism.

Thanks to Air Boat Association
This is Sam Williams. I'd like to thank everyone for the hard work they did and for coming out Saturday and making the Black Gold Jubilee Fishing and Casting Contest so successful.

I also want to make a public apology to the Glades Air Boat Association, Howard Ayers and his men, who worked so hard to get the bait ready for the tournament.

They picked up the bait early and distributed it. Some of the men who did that had kids fishing in the tournament and I failed to introduce them at the introductions and twice later when I was made aware of it I forgot to recognize them and then when I did, the noise was so loud I don't think they really heard it.

I apologize and I really do appreciate all the work they did and I really hope and pray they'll be back next year. We couldn't have done it without them.

I also want to thank The Sun for all the good publicity you gave us.

Editors note: The POLICE NEWS in this newspaper lists arrests, not convictions, unless otherwise stated. Arrested persons who later are found not guilty or have had the charges against them dropped are welcome to let us know. We will confirm the information and print it.

In honor of National Library Week:

"What the Belle Glade Branch Library and the Palm Beach County Library System can do for you."

Information, education and recreation are all available for you at the Belle Glade Branch Library.

The books are there of course. The library has books on everything from how to fix your car, to the latest bestseller. Additionally, there are records, audio and video cassettes, large print books and a collection of Spanish books for our Hispanic patrons.

ATLAS, which is a card catalog on computer makes it possible to search for any holdings in the Palm Beach County Library. This is an improvement over the old style card catalog which usually listed only books that are not available at the Belle Glade Branch can be requested through ATLAS from other libraries in the system and will arrive at the Belle Glade Branch in 3-5 days via courier. If a book is not available at Palm Beach County Library System, we can often borrow it from other libraries outside the system through interlibrary loan.

The Belle Glade Branch Library has an extensive reference collection. From learning about a particular medical condition, to which companies manufacture nails, the information by telephoning or stopping by. If we cannot find the answer, the reference staff at the Central Library will be happy to help.

The Belle Glade Branch also has a children's department to offer special reference assistance, tours for school children, outreach services to local day care centers and offer special programs throughout the year. Our Halloween Haunted House and the Summer Reading Programs are two annual events that are well attended.

The Summer Reading Program is offered as an incentive to keep children interested in books and in turn, keep up their reading skills during the summer. There are programs for children ages three-12 which include stories, films, arts and crafts.

In addition to the Belle Glade Branch, there are library branches located in Pahokee and South Bay, offering library services to those areas. There are also branches located in Royal Palm Beach, Delray, Greenacres, Boca, Okeechobee, Palm Beach Gardens, Jupiter and Tequesta.

There will soon be branches located in Wellington and West Boynton Beach. The Bookmobile, our specialized library on wheels, travels weekly to locations not specifically receiving library service.

Other services that are offered by the Palm Beach County Library System include Talking Books on audio which provides books on audio tape to sight impaired individuals and Books by Mail.

For more information on any of these services, please call the Belle Glade Branch at 996-3452.

April 18-24 is "Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week"

Transplantation is the only chance for life an end stage organ failure patient has.

Not everyone who dies can be an organ donor. Patients with communicable diseases are an example of those who are excluded from organ donation.

Patients on a transplant waiting list who die, die because someone never offered the option of organ donation to a grieving family.

One donor could mean the difference between the life and death of four waiting people and more dialysis for two waiting kidney recipients.

Organ donation is truly a unique opportunity to save lives. It is possible for a single donor to donate organs and tissues that may save or help as many as 25 recipients.

No matter which organs or tissues are donated, there will be no cost to your family or estate.

Every 25 minutes, someone is added to the national waiting list for organ donation. The national list of patients waiting for an organ transplant has surpassed 30,000. Every day seven people die while waiting for vital organs.

There has been remarkable advancements in transplantation and a critical shortage of organ donors.

Many Americans generally believe organ donation to be a praiseworthy and charitable behavior, but because they often misunderstand and mistrust the actual process, the majority have not completed donor cards.

Unfortunately, most people fail to verbalize their feelings about donation to their families. Individuals are likely to give permission to donate the organs of a family member, if that person had discussed or requested donation.

Discuss organ donation with your own family and declare your personal commitment by carrying a donor card and when you renew your drivers license, register as an organ donor.

Guest Commentary

By Michael E. Johnson, Sergeant and Michael R. Miller, Director of Public Safety/Cheif of Police, Belle Glade

Carjacking is a nationwide problem, however, there is no physical injury or death, evidence that large segments of the country are experiencing an epidemic of this crime.

In Florida, the number of carjackings has remained relatively constant over the last four years. Carjackings are relatively isolated in most areas of the state. Although some highly publicized carjackings have occurred in Florida, this state is ranked at the bottom of the list of the five most populous states.

Officials nationwide speculate that increased media coverage has focused more attention on this crime. The highly publicized results perpetuate the notion that this crime is greatly increasing in all areas.

Because carjacking includes dation and possible serious physical injury or death, motorists must be alert to prevent their becoming a victim.

Here are some helpful hints to assist you in not becoming a carjacking victim. When walking to your car don't dawdle, move quickly and have your keys ready. Look for anyone hiding in or around your vehicle. If confronted, avoid any verbal/physical confrontations, cooperate and move quickly away from the car. Call the police immediately and give them the description of your car and the suspect.

While driving be alert to your surroundings. Plan your route up and door locked. Allow room between your car and the car in front of you so you can maneuver. Be careful, carjackers sometimes bump into cars in order to get the driver to pull over. If you get bumped and it appears suspicious, motion to the other driver to follow and proceed to a safe area to notify the police.

If someone tries to take your car, remember, don't panic, avoid any confrontation if your windows are up and your car is locked, use your horn and drive away.

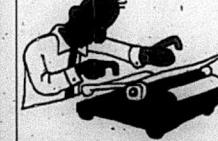

If the perpetrator has a weapon, give up your car immediately, don't fight or argue as your life is more important than your car. Call the police immediately.

If you have any further questions or would like more detailed information on tips to prevent becoming a victim of carjacking, contact the Belle Glade Police Department.

Dennis Lee is back once again this year to perform at the 15th annual Black Gold Jubilee, on Saturday and Sunday.

Back by popular demand...Dennis Lee headlines Jubilee Entertainment

From farmland to fairground is a "fer-Piece". But, a winning combination of talent and tenacity has taken this Tennessee-born performer from his rural beginnings to showtime success: first as a clown at fairs across the country, and now as the singing headliner of musical group. It was tough row to hoe, but Dennis Lee has done it with style.

Dennis Lee is one of today's most exciting entertainers. His show includes a blend of the year's hottest country music, the romantic and patriotic traditional country standards, the hopping best beat of nostalgic 50's and 60's tunes, and the one and only Memphis sound made popular by Elvis Presley. Backed by a polished band, Dennis serves up this wonderfully familiar music with his own inimitable style of comedy and antics.

This is family entertainment extraordinaire. It's an energy-packed, dance filled pageant where audience participation is as much a part of the show as the music. Dennis offers something for everyone, from baby to teenager, and from parent to grandparent.

Dennis Lee has opened for Lee Greenwood, Randy Travis, The Gatlin Brothers, Charley Pride, Exile, Tanya Tucker and Conway Twitty. His most recent appearances in the area were at the South Florida Fair in West Palm Beach and the Florida State Fair in Tampa.

This is one show not to miss. Come early; get a good seat and get ready for performance to remember! Join us at the Marina on Saturday, April 24, at 6:00 p.m. and Sunday, April 25, at 3:00 p.m. for the Dennis Lee Show.

It will be an enjoyable time for the entire family. Hope to see you there!

Reaching the water quality goal is to conduct research to develop a scientific understanding of the role that nitrogen plays in determining lake productivity and its contribution to the eutrophication process.

Strategies to reach this objective include: identify and quantify nitrogen cycling, sources and sinks within the Lake Okeechobee watershed; develop appropriate nitrogen loading and concentration criteria for nitrogen inputs into the lake if necessary and appropriate; and, develop a nitrogen control program for Lake Okeechobee if necessary and appropriate.

The strategies which will be implemented to achieve this objective include: Continue to work with the FDER to implement its present policy of phasing out the discharge of sewage treatment plant effluent to surface waters within the Lake Okeechobee basin and to access the extent to which septic tanks contribute to phosphorus levels within a particular basin; assess the requirement of the Pollution Load Reduction Goal program upon the Lake Okeechobee SWIM Planning Area and identify appropriate implementation plans, as required, by 1994.

The sixth objective of the water quality element is to source pollution within the Lake Okeechobee basin.

The strategies which will be implemented to achieve this objective include: Continue to work with the FDER to implement its present policy of phasing out the discharge of sewage treatment plant effluent to surface waters within the Lake Okeechobee basin and to access the extent to which septic tanks contribute to phosphorus levels within a particular basin; assess the requirement of the Pollution Load Reduction Goal program upon the Lake Okeechobee SWIM Planning Area and identify appropriate implementation plans, as required, by 1994.

SFWMD outlines objectives for SWIM plan

The updated Lake Okeechobee Surface Water Improvement and Management (SWIM) Plan adopted by the governing board of South Florida Water Management District in January of this year now contains seven elements which the district will follow in its management strategies for the second largest freshwater lake in the U.S.

The first of those addressed in the SWIM Plan is that of Water Quality. The stated goal of this element is, "Protect and restore Lake Okeechobee water quality to meet regional environmental, potable water and agricultural needs."

The element also contains two sub-goals. They are: "Achieve state Class I water quality within Lake Okeechobee and Class II water quality standards within tributaries which drain into the lake;" and, "Manage and improve water quality in Lake Okeechobee and its inflows to prevent hypereutrophication (nutrient)."

The first objective is to conduct the necessary studies to determine the extend to which Class I and Class III water quality standards are exceeded within the lake at all inflow points and within upstream tributaries to the lake.

The strategies which will be employed in achieving this objective include conducting statistical analysis of public agency databases to identify and quantify the extent of environmental impacts of specific parameters as well as design and implement a monitoring program. Another strategy is to develop and implement a cohesive plan to address Class I and Class III water quality violations within Lake Okeechobee and its tributary basins.

The second objective is to work with local governments, state agencies and public/private agencies to assist in the implementation of water quality improvement programs to meet state water quality standards.

The strategies which will be used to meet this objective include: assist local governments in planning stormwater management systems to meet state water standards; encourage improvement and expansion of water treatment facilities to meet state water quality standards; and, use local government comprehensive plan amendment process to identify cooperative projects that will improve water quality.

The third objective is to reduce phosphorus inputs into the lake by 40 percent as prescribed by the 1987 SWIM Act.

Strategies which will be implemented to achieve this objective to include: Continuing the use of the FDER Dairy Phosphorus Reduction to reduce phosphorus concentrations in dairy farm runoff; continuing to use the Works of the District regulatory program to reduce phosphorus concentrations from non-diary land uses; and, improve the district's ability to assess nutrient loadings to the lake and quantify nutrient sources.

The fourth objective is to complete ongoing research and demonstrate projects on phosphorus transport and assimilation within the Lake Okeechobee Basin.

The strategies which the plan expects the district to employ to achieve this objective include: Determine the phosphorus uptake capacity of lake sediments and identify key processes affecting its ability to assimilate and retain phosphorus; determine phosphorus transport in the Lake Okeechobee basin; and, analyze the feasibility of various sediments removal and chemical treatment programs designed to increase phosphorus assimilative capacity of problem tributary inflows.

The fifth objective is to assess the effectiveness of the Lake Okeechobee SWIM Phosphorus Reduction programs to meet the offsite and tributary inflow phosphorus performance standards and lake-wide phosphorus loading target.

Strategies to achieve this objective include: perform an quality trends within the lake quality trends within the lake and all tributary inflows; update the Lake Okeechobee nutrient budget to reflect inlake and tributary phosphorus loading trends and identify basins out of compliance; evaluate the appropriateness of the modified Vollenweider Model as compared to other lake water quality models; complete a detailed review of the effectiveness of the DER Dairy Rule; and, perform a review of the effectiveness of the Works of the District Program, including an evaluation of alternative management concepts.

The sixth objective of the water quality element is to source pollution within the Lake Okeechobee basin.

The strategies which will be implemented to achieve this objective include: Continue to work with the FDER to implement its present policy of phasing out the discharge of sewage treatment plant effluent to surface waters within the Lake Okeechobee basin and to access the extent to which septic tanks contribute to phosphorus levels within a particular basin; assess the requirement of the Pollution Load Reduction Goal program upon the Lake Okeechobee SWIM Planning Area and identify appropriate implementation plans, as required, by 1994.

The seventh objective to reach the water quality goal is to conduct research to develop a scientific understanding of the role that nitrogen plays in determining lake productivity and its contribution to the eutrophication process.

Strategies to reach this objective include: identify and quantify nitrogen cycling, sources and sinks within the Lake Okeechobee watershed; develop appropriate nitrogen loading and concentration criteria for nitrogen inputs into the lake if necessary and appropriate; and, develop a nitrogen control program for Lake Okeechobee if necessary and appropriate.

"Steel Magnolias" come to the stage in Clewiston

Few people who enjoyed the screen play of "Steel Magnolia's" know that it is based on a true story, ironically enough written by a man, Robert Harling. They only know it to be a warm and funny Academy Award winning picture.

Actors' Community Theatre will present the stage version of this delightfully nostalgic play May 7 and 8, at 8 p.m. and May 9, at 2 p.m. at John B. Boy auditorium in Clewiston.

The play, under the direction of Michael Logsdon, takes place in a small Louisiana town. The stage setting is Truvy's beauty shop where the wonderful characters of Chinquapin share their lives and their loves with their closest friends.

As a special treat for patrons, Friday and Sunday's performances will include a dinner. Friday an Italian candlelight dinner will be served between 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The play will begin at 8 p.m. Sunday's Mothers Day Dinner will be served between 12:30 and 1:30 p.m. The play will begin at 2 p.m. For reservations call either Sandy Mann or Michael Logsdon.

The box office will open at 7:15 p.m. on Saturday. There will be no dinner. The play will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets for the play are $5, and can be purchased at the box office. Tickets for the dinner theatres are $15 to include the meal and play.

Promoters want to assure patrons that tickets are available for the play ONLY on Friday and Sunday too. Reservations are required for the dinner and not the play.

The play will begin at 8 p.m. Sunday's Mothers Day Dinner will be served between

Childhood immunizations help provide a healthy life for your child

Parents, do you know that childhood immunizations are "due by age two?" This means that children should begin immunizations at age two months and complete the childhood immunization series by the time they are two years old.

It is important that your child get certain immunizations according to age. Ask your doctor or call the Palm Beach County Public Health Unit at 833-9252 for more information on childhood immunizations today.

Mortgage burning ceremony

Praise worship service will take place Sunday, April 25 at 3 p.m. at the New Macedonia Missionary Baptist Church in Glades Citizen Villa, Pahokee in a mortgage-burning ceremony.

The Reverend R.F. Hariton III and congregation of New Bethel Baptist Church, Belle Glade will render service. The mortgage-burning ceremony follows immediately after that service.

The theme of the program "Unto Thee O Lord, we have built you a house." 1 King 8:12. New Macedonia M.B. Church was established in 1929 through many struggles, trials and tribulations; sometimes seeking a place to worship. The almighty God kept the flock together.

To everyone, there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heavens. Ecclesiastes 3:1. This is the time God has planned for the pastor and congregation to praise him to burn the church mortgage. We thank you father for the small things; now we can give thanks for the big blessings.

All pastors and congregations are cordially invited to worship with us far and near. We look forward to seeing you.

Seminar on Lake Okeechobee scheduled

An upcoming seminar sponsored by the City of Pahokee will bring together various public and private sector groups to devise ways to attract tourists to the Lake Okeechobee area entitled "Attracting Visitors to Lake Okeechobee". The seminar will be held on Thursday, April 29 beginning at 8:45 a.m. at the Palm Beach Community Center on state road 98/441 in Canal Point, north of Okeechobee. It seeks to inform area Chambers of Commerce, proprietors of tourist related businesses, such as motels and restaurants, local governments and recreational enthusiasts about the potential to diversify the local economy via tourism development. To achieve this goal, several speakers will discuss existing recreational facilities, as well as ongoing efforts to develop tours based on farms, scenic and historic resources and efforts to extend the Florida National Scenic Trail around Lake Okeechobee.

The seminar will be hosted by the Canal Point Renewal, Inc., a local historic restoration and economic development group. Registration begins at 8:45 a.m., followed by several presentations and discussions in which participants will be asked to generate strategies for enhancing Presenters will include Frank Marsocci with the Economic Development Council of Okeechobee, Karen Milano, a tour guide specializing in historic and agricultural areas and Mary Ann Koos, the state trial coordinator.

City Manager Ken Schenck hopes this seminar's "practical visitors and opportunities for enchanting tourism" will inspire other communities to join Pahokee in its efforts to make visitors appreciate the beauty of the lake area.

Illustrations of these visions, ranging from restored main streets and organizing outings for nature lovers, to regularly scheduled tours promoting the area's scenic, agricultural and historic resources, will be discussed at the seminar.

If this seminar is a success, the next will be to form a network of local task forces to promote tourism development within and between each town.

Future workshops will focus on ways to enhance development of the Lake Trial, recruit bed-and-breakfasts and revitalize old downtown. For future information on this seminar, which will occur April 29, which will occur from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. April 29, please contact Ken Schenck.

Family to Family project honors 36 graduates

On Saturday, April 17, 1993, at the Drawbridge Cafe, 36 women, from Belle Glade, Pahokee, and South Bay who are part of the Family to Family quality improvement project were honored in a graduation ceremony. For some of these small businesswomen, Saturday's graduation was their first.

Part of a nation wide project, Family to Family offers additional training to licensed family child care providers who want to increase their knowledge of child development and improve their skills in managing home-based child care programs.

The family child care providers attended classes at Palm Beach Community College taught by Child Care Resource & Referral instructors Marie Lavender and Josephine Brigham-Green. The classes covered child development, health and safety, nutrition and business management.

The experienced family child care providers based their studies on the quality standards that are set by the National Association for Family Day Care. Some of the graduates will now attempt to earn accreditation from this professional association by demonstrating that their home-based child care programs meet or exceed these national quality standards.

Belle Glade

JUBILEE '93

This section is dedicated to the farmers and the hardy pioneers who came to the Belle Glade area and settled. For facing all the hardships of floods, winds, hunger, disease and through it all built the town we know and love, Belle Glade, and to those who have stayed and made it what it is today.

The soil so rich that virtually everything planted in it has no choice but to sink its roots as far into the richness of the earth as they possibly can to feed and nurture themselves and to reach their branches toward the sun, and grow to be strong and healthy.

A lake so large and bountiful that it has been the main resource of water, a major contributor of food and recreation for thousands of people over the years.

Let us be thankful each day for all it brings to each of us. The bounty of our land, the greenness of the grass, the strength of the majestic trees, the beautiful lake, the produce that helps to feed us and the world, the sugar that helps everything be just a little sweeter and most of all, the people who live in the Belle Glade area, for they know the true meaning of living in the Glades.

JUBILEE

Jubilee Chairman extends warm welcome

Chairman Diana Seider

Once again it is time to welcome everyone to our annual Black Gold Jubilee.

This year's theme is a salute to the Glades Area agriculture and the great people of Western Palm Beach County.

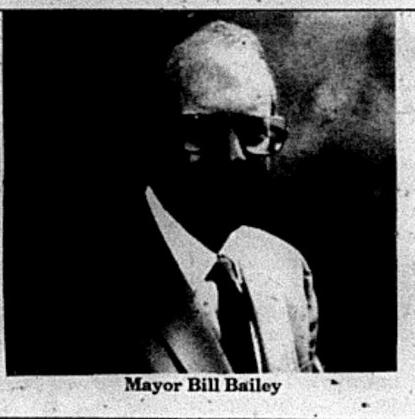

"Her Soil Is Her Fortune" is a celebration of our rich farmland, unique to the area surrounding Lake Okeechobee.

Many activities are planned for you and your family's enjoyment—music, arts and crafts, exhibits, games and more. so come out and share the fun.

See you there!

Diana Seider
Chairman

Mayor Bill Bailey

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to welcome you to Belle Glade's fifteenth annual Black Gold Jubilee. The Glade's fertile black gold soil not only is homeland for some of the friendliest people you will ever hope to meet, but it also supports an immense winter vegetable industry and the largest sugar production in the nation.

Evolving out of a city-wide celebration of Belle Glade's 50th Anniversary in 1978, Black Gold Jubilee showcases the area's unique variety of talents, skills, resources and cultures. And, it is only fitting that this year's theme reflects the City's motto, "Her Soil is Her Fortune."

As we pause to give thanks to the area's bountiful harvests, the City Commission and I invite you to join in this exciting celebration of the land and its people.

The Jubilee Committee has spent countless hours planning and preparing for this fun-filled weekend, and this year's schedule of events promises to be another overwhelming success. The Committee's tireless efforts exemplify the community spirit that exists in Belle Glade and they are to be commended for a job well done.

To our visitor's, I extend hearty greetings and sincere appreciation for your interest and attendance. I hope you will enjoy to the fullest your visit to the Glades and especially your participation in the 1993 Black Gold Jubilee.

Sincerely,
Bill Bailey
Mayor

Her Soil is Her Fortune...

The history of Black Gold

Originated and named in 1978, the Black Gold Jubilee was created to celebrate Belle Glade's local culture, talent and resources. The annual event is scheduled as close as possible to Belle Glade's April 9, 1928 incorporation date.

The theme this year was taken from the city's seal "Her Soil is Her Fortune."

This seal was designed by Margaret Earwood in memory of her husband Henry Earwood, who was Belle Glade's first city manager.

The following is a description of the seal:

- The golden disc represents the sun.
- The black earth represents the richness of her soil.
- The overturned hamper represents her bountiful harvest.
- The paved road represents her well-paved streets and highways.

• The lake, boat and golf course represents her opportunities for recreation and enjoyment.

• The pine trees along the canal are typical of her scenery.

• The bit of cane field shows the development of another major industry.

• The blue sky and tropical birds symbolizes her wonderful tropical climate.

As in festivals past, Jubilee '93 has enjoyed avid and active support from the City Commission.

Commissioner Crate "Happy" Tucker serves on the Jubilee '93 Committee.

The Black Gold Jubilee Committee and the City Commission invite you to come out and enjoy our fifteenth Jubilee.

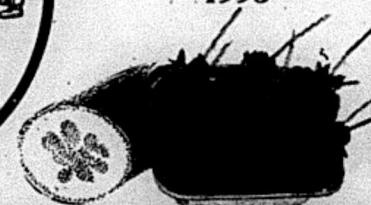

The Jubilee Committee...has devoted countless hours to prepare for Jubilee '93. Come out April 24-25 and see all the fun you can have without spending a lot of money. Most of the events are free.

1993 Citizen Of The Year, Larry Royal, tells how it all began

Larry Royal, was named Citizen of the Year, by the Chamber of Commerce in September of 1992.

The following story is how Royal's Stores began, as told by Larry Royal, son of founder George Royal.

The Royal's story began in South Georgia. This is where my dad, George L. Royal, Sr. was born. He was raised in a retail environment very similar to ours.

His father was involved with general stores, and my dad thought he would never have to worry about going anywhere except South Georgia, and working with his father.

His father sent him to the University of Georgia to study Business Administration.

If there was one thing he did not count on in those days, it was the Boll Weevil.

The Boll Weevil completely devastated the southern farms. It was even more devastating than the major depression. Merchants who were involved with farmers were put completely out of business, and as a result, George had nothing to go home to.

Dad (George) remembered that Florida was just starting the boom we have all heard about.. He decided there was nothing left for him in south Georgia, and Florida might offer him some opportunities.

He came to a little town called Inverness, and went to work for a lumber company. He had met the people who owned this company while at the University of Georgia.

They gave him a job working in the bookkeeping department. Of course, my dad was not the kind of fellow who enjoyed desk work, and when the time came that the lumber company opened up a commissary on the East coast, in a town known as Kelsey City, (now known as Lake Park) he took advantage of it.

This was like throwing a rabbit in a briar patch, putting him back into the general store commissary-type operation, because this is what he had known in South Georgia.

This was right in the middle of the boom. He got caught up in the spirit of the boom and became very successful. He was making good money, and like so many others in that day, he was spending it. Buying the nicest cars, biggest homes and taking nice trips, not thinking of tomorrow.

The mentality at that time was that times were going to be good forever.

During the period of time he was in Kelsey City (Lake Park), he met my mother, Sue, and they were married. They went to Texas on their honeymoon.

While on their honeymoon, they read in the newspaper that a hurricane had hit South Florida. When they returned, Dad's store had been completely destroyed, the only thing left was an empty cash register.

To give you an idea of where the store was located, it was behind where the K-Mart, on Northlake Blvd. in West Palm Beach, is located today, if you can picture that.

There was a sawmill where they processed the lumber and a commissary in the same complex.

When he came back, the store was gone, he had a new bride, no job, and the depression had just started to get underway.

Jobs were extremely hard to find. He spent weeks traveling throughout Florida, trying to find something he could do, but no one was hiring.

Dad finally went to Atlanta, Georgia, and went to work for a company called Roger's Brothers, a grocery chain. He was making $12 a week. This was good, but not really what he wanted to do.

In the back of his mind he kept thinking that while he was working in Kelsey City, there was activity going on in the Lake Okeechobee area.

A large sugar company called Southern Sugar was getting underway and they were hiring people. He thought that might be something he wanted to do.

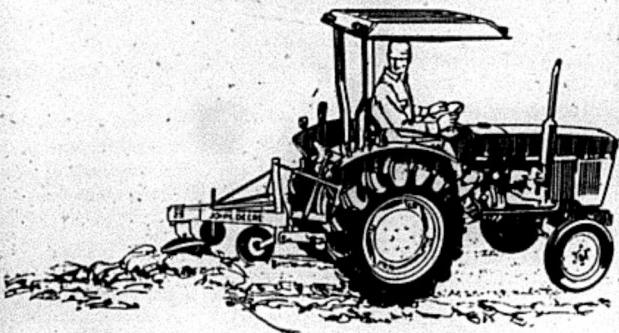

Dad and Mother moved to Clewiston and Dad applied for a job in one of Southern Sugar's commissaries. He was hired to run the old Bare Beach Camp. This camp was located where Evercane Sugar Company is today.

He said this job meant more to him than any other, because he was out of work and Mom was pregnant with me. (George Larry Royal, Jr.)

To give you a little bit of a picture of what they were facing, this camp was in an isolated area and housed several hundred workers who cut sugar cane. The commissary manager's position was one of many hats.

He was not only the commissary manager but, he was the law enforcement officer, doctor, nurses aid and the problem solver. The bottom line was they were thrilled about this job, as this was the only job Dad could find.

They lived in back of the commissary. They did not have to pay any rent or utilities. They had to adjust to no indoor plumbing or bathing facilities. They had to bathe in #2 wash tubs.

Dad said it was wonderful. He remembered this time to be the best in his life.

This was because he remembered the times he did not have a job and what he had gone through trying to get one.

My brother, Charles, and I have often remarked that this particular time in my dad's life really changed his way of thinking.

His philosophy became a strong conservative approach to fiscal responsibility, of how important it is to leave your money in the business, and not borrow money you did not need.

He was at Bare Beach for two years and thought he really wanted to get into business for himself.

Dad noticed in Bean City a little store being built, and he stopped to inquire. A gentleman by the name of Arthur Wells was doing the work himself.

Mr. Wells did not have anyone to run the store. Dad suggested he may need a partner. Mr. Wells said it sounded good to him and they became partners.

He saved $300 after two years of working, and they became Wells and Royal.

The store in Bean City did so well that they went on to Lake Harbor and opened another store and it was also very successful.

While in the general store business at Kelsey City, the company owed Dad a lot of money, but they were not able to pay it. They offered him lumber instead of cash, and he took it. Wells and Royal opened a lumber yard and it was even more successful than the general store.

Mr. Wells and my dad went on to open a lumber yard in Clewiston, as well. These two lumber yards and two general stores were very successful, but Mr. Wells and Dad both realized the partnership was not what they wanted it to be.

Mr. Wells was a farmer by trade and this is where his first love was. My dad was the merchant, so they dissolved the partnership. Dad took the Lake Harbor store and the Clewiston lumber yard. Mr. Wells took the Bean City location.

It was there that my dad started to add little stores all around the lake. During the war, he had nine little general stores in Belle Glade, Lake Harbor, Clewiston, Bean City and all around the lake.

That's where I first remember seeing him. I never saw too much of him back in those days, because he was the general manager and director of operations, and he never had much time.

As time went on, he continuously improved the properties. He felt you needed to put money back into the business. After the war years, he felt we really needed to get into the grocery business and upgrade to a supermarket type operation.

Most of our operations prior to that time had been country operations where we carried credit for the year and did not do any kind of advertising.

We saw that when the chains came in, they devastated us with their weekly ads, low mark ups and self-service. We tried to adjust for this. We built two "super stores", one in Belle Glade, where Case Rate was, and one in Clewiston, where the old A&P was. These were very successful stores. They were very competitive in this environment.

Thursday, April 22, 1993-11

In 1953, we received a call from the CEO of Winn Dixie. He stated he would like to come up and have lunch and visit with us. Of course we had no idea what he wanted. This call was responsible for changing the direction of the Royal's companies.

He wanted to let us know that Winn Dixie was coming to Belle Glade, and they wanted to buy us out, or that they would prefer to buy us out. If we did not sell, they were still planning to come in.

This was a tough decision. We did not want to see the competition come in. I had just gotten out of college and had only been working for two years. Being young and thinking I could "lick the world", I felt like we could probably be competitive with Winn Dixie.

However, wiser people came in and said this is probably the best opportunity we had and we sold to Winn Dixie. Looking back, Charles and I have talked about this being the best decision we ever made.

If we had stayed in the grocery store business, we probably would have gone under before too long, because the small independent had a difficult time when the bigger chains came in. We were able to sell out to Winn Dixie, and get our money out of the business and diversify, putting it into other areas.

This is where Charles, our developer came in. We built a shopping center with Winn Dixie's, Royal's Department Stores and of course later, we put Burger Kings on the out parcels.

We had a good relationship with Winn Dixie, and they seemed to have confidence in us and us in them.

There is a story that I like to tell of when Winn Dixie came in to estimate the food inventory. We had bad thoughts as to how we would come out on the inventory. Winn Dixie brought two people, professional inventory takers, with these little microphones. They would come up to the big gondolas filled with merchandise and stand there for a few seconds and say into their little microphones "565", and they would do this all over the store.

We said there is no way this inventory could check out. When they were finished, there was only a $152 difference in their count and ours. Theirs was higher so we were not nearly as concerned about Winn Dixie.

That relationship continued and grew through the years. We had a situation where we talked them into going into a couple of locations they were not comfortable with, Okeechobee being one of them. They were very amazed at the volume they did in Okeechobee.

When we got out of the grocery business we concentrated on the real estate development end of the business and continued working with our department stores.

In 1984, we were approached by McCroy's Corporation. They wanted to buy our department stores. At that time we had 13 stores. This time, the decision was not as tough to make as it had been earlier with Winn Dixie. We knew it was time to sell, because K-Mart and Wal Mart were coming in.

We had other opportunities to explore that we knew could be better. The Burger Kings were started and Popeyes had just come on the scene. We felt this was where we should be. We sold in 1984, and a great deal of our concentration after that was on the Burger Kings, and we feel this was a good move.

This brings us up to 1992. I would like to point out a couple of key ingredients I believe enabled us to survive until the fourth generation, and exist for 60 or so years in retailing. Most small family run businesses do not survive. It is usually the second generation that goes under. We have been very fortunate in that we have been in the right place at the right time.

The decisions to sell out to Winn Dixie and McCroy's were excellent decisions. We could have stayed there and struggled, and probably would have survived, but definitely not have been where we are today.

The legacy that our father left us was the most important. He was a strong fiscal conservative - if anything, he was over conservative.

Right now, as we look at today's economic environment, this is the best thing that could have happened.

We could have grown much faster, and there is no question we could have been much larger than we are today, if we had borrowed like many others. However, we may not be here, that's the bottom line. I think another important element to our success is being in the Glades. This is where Dad put us - this is where he saw the opportunities.

There is no question about it, opportunities have been here for 60 years and we believe they will be here for another 60 years. Right now, here in Belle Glade, we are planning the second phase of Big Lake Plaza.

We are real bullish on the Glades, and we feel like there are tremendous opportunities here. I know that's why you folks are here today, because of the Glades and we feel the same way.

We would like to thank the people of the Glades and the surrounding areas, for all your support over the years. We truly would not be what we are today without you.

And we would like to invite everyone come out and enjoy the 15th annual Black Gold Jubilee.
